Lifelong Learning Beyond the Green

By Mark Winkler, Newsletter Editor

When visiting the Culinary Institute of America (CIA) in Hyde Park, NY years ago, I learned that about 70% of coursework focused on food preparation and 30% on food presentation. Somehow, I had expected that food prep was 100% of what cheffing was all about. While excellent food presentation cannot make up for bad food prep, it can further enhance the dining experience of food prepared well. In presenting our class newsletters, I have tried to take that lesson to heart.

I was not formally trained in graphic design, but I am curious about the craft that enhances the reading experience and better connects message with audience. I have experimented with several formats and with this issue I choose to emulate the Swiss Style or International Typographic Style from the 1950's.

The style emphasizes simplicity and readability. Its features include grids, sans-serif fonts, asymmetric layouts, vibrant colors, and photographs, not illustrations.

For the newsletter cover design, I chose a 45° diagonal, diamond grid. For the color scheme, I picked the colors associated with the international maritime signal flags for the numbers 7 & 9 (above). For the cover, the greys help highlight and enhance the bright flag colors.

There was no green which suggested a whole new color palette for this newsletter. It suggested the “beyond the green” 79 logo (at right). And beyond the green is actually the whole life that we are living since having left the Green in 1979. For every undergraduate day that we spent on the Green, we will live 15 to 20 days “beyond the green” as alumni.

The font I chose is Neue Haas Grotesk, which is the original or real font that we know as Helvetica. Appropriately, this font debuted in 1957 (along with most of our classmates). In 1960, to make the font more marketable, the name was changed to Helvetica, the Latin name of the pre-Roman tribes living in what is now Switzerland. While the Neue Haas Grotesk existed as handset metal type, it lost much its distinctiveness when translated to the digital Helvetica. For example, original key differences between large display and text fonts were merged.

Neue Haas Grotesk got its proper revival by Christian Schwartz when it was first commissioned by The Guardian in 2004. Completed in 2010 for Bloomberg Businessweek, Schwartz revealed the restored typeface. He had spent years redrawing the typeface to match original forms and bring back its essence. That is the typeface used in this issue. (munch.studio/the-real-helvetica/)

You will be the judge about whether these design choices enhance the experience of reading this issue's content. There is so much that our classmates have done—and are doing—both alone and together. There are so many stories to be shared. And whether enjoying a fine meal or perhaps reading a class newsletter, there is still so much left to do, to learn, and to share “beyond the green.” ♦

Survey

In January, twenty-four of our classmates generously answered a simple, seven question survey.

The questions ranged from “What is your favorite cold drink or dessert?” and “What is your coolest cell phone app, favorite podcast, or mode of transport?” to “What Dartmouth class has had the greatest impact on your life?” and “What question would YOU ask of your classmates for this survey?”

The 168 answers are truly a delight: from thoughtful to fun, flowers to meat, city to wilderness, water to mountains, Alaska to Chile, and Vermont to Japan. The 24 images on this page represent one answer from each of our classmates. Intrigued? We would love to hear from you. If you would like to share in our next D79 classmate survey (we all hope that you will!), please email your interest to Mark.Winkler.79@gmail.com today. ♦

Seven Questions to Members of Dartmouth 1979

Name	Adam Samuels	Anna Burack Wilson	Carol Anderson Shaw (CA)	Curtiss Takada Rooks
Location	Capitola, CA, USA	Colorado	rural territory of the wild, wild West	Tokyo Japan (Culver City CA)
Favorite cold drink or dessert	Dark chocolate mousse	Ice cream with something chocolate.	Margaritaville	Chocolate Ice Cream
Coollest cell phone app, favorite podcast, or mode of transport?	ON with Kara Swisher - tech meets politics	Mode of transport: skis! Skiing has been both vocation and avocation for more than a half century.	I like my Paddle King. It's a classic mode of transport, with aluminum pontoons.	Japan's Trains & Subways
If could have only one book with you, what would it be?	"Let the Great World Spin" by Colum McCann. life, love, loss, and taking risks, set during the time Philippe Petit walked across a tightrope between the World Trade towers.	Impossible to answer this unless additional reading material is available online. Current can't-do-without printed book is "Flora of Colorado" by Jennifer Ackerfield.	A blank notebook. I hope I'm allowed a pen, as well.	Bible -- Lots of wisdom
Best vacation experience or destination?	Being told by a Parisian taxi driver that to attempt to speak French rather than not try at all was valued more by their country.	Being on a 1979 expedition with 5 fellow DOCers to Nachvak Fjord in northern Labrador, an adventure to the edge of the world. Most days the only reminder of civilization was the regularly scheduled jets passing overhead.	The best is yet to come-- New Zealand! Skiing and sailing trips have been the highlights so far. The Rockies and the Bitter End.	Central Coast of California - Peaceful with lots of ocean
What Dartmouth class has had the greatest impact on your life?	I can't say that any class did – peers, not professors, had the greatest impact.	I suppose it has to be Rocks 1 because it set me on course for a career in geology. The class itself wasn't special, but what it lead to certainly was.	LSA in Blois. Great times, great people, amazing travel experiences, a new language. Viva la France!	Finite Mathematics - Taught me I could do lots of different things. Confidence in conceptual math.
What question would YOU ask of your classmates for this survey?	What is your fondest memory of your time on campus?	We were rewarded for demonstrated passion in a limited areas of interest. Which other areas do you wish you had pursued (or did pursue) later in life?	How's it going?	Not sure...

David Brown	Doug Arion	Douglas Furth	Etta Pisano	Name
Tucson, AZ JWMarriott Starr Pass Resort	Twin Mountain, NH	In Bed	Sullivan's Island, SC	Location
Vanilla MaltWw	Drink: Diet Coke; Dessert: Pecan Pie	Ice Cream	Baked Alaska	Favorite cold drink or dessert
Wordle. Gets my mind going every morning!	App: SkySafari. Transport: Gravel bike	My scuba fins. Res Ipsa Loquitur. The 50 percent of the class that went to law school will understand my reasoning.	Pixelogic. It's a puzzle I've solved every day for over 14 years.	Coollest cell phone app, favorite podcast, or mode of transport?
"Atlas Shrugged." It always reminds me of what I can accomplish when I put my mind and energy to something.	"How to Build a Habitable Planet" by Charles Langmuir. Explains everything from Big Bang to present day.	My real answer would sound pretentious so I'll say "The Lord of the Rings" because I have read it a zillion times.	I can't decide because I'm so used to having everything I want to read with me at all times with the internet and my iPad.	If could have only one book with you, what would it be?
Tokyo. Magnificent city full of friendly people in totally unique culture and fabulous food.	Cycling in the Alps and Dolomites....back when I was young and fast on a bike....	Meeting Darryl Strawberry in Jerusalem!! I'm a lifelong Mets fan and Jerusalem is the most interesting and moving place that I have visited.	The Atacama desert in northern Chile - with mountains, amazing wildlife, and so many stars in the night sky.	Best vacation experience or destination?
1979. Greatest Class ever!	Physics 18/19. We basically got an overview of all of physics in just two quarters, and set me on a path of understanding and study that has carried through to present day.	Italian I because it opened the door for my love of languages which lead to me being functional in 5 languages.	Introduction to Philosophy with Professor Bernard Gert. It (and my subsequent Phil major) taught me a way of thinking.	What Dartmouth class has had the greatest impact on your life?
What would you do if you knew you could not fail?	What is the most significant thing you would have done differently at Dartmouth, given what you know now?	If you could go back to College, what would you do differently, and why?	What were the best and worst things that happened at Dartmouth while we were there?	What question would YOU ask of your classmates for this survey?

If could have only one book with you, what would it be?	"Custard the Dragon," by Ogden Nash. A gift from Granny Langdon in 1959, which I still have, shared with my kids, and am now sharing with grand kids.	"Happiness," by Matthew Ricard: Makes a passionate case for happiness as a goal that deserves energy and focus	A Rick Steve travel book for wherever I am going. Great guidance.	"Life in the Woods," by Henry David Thoreau Provokes infinite observations and reflections in my favorite places.
Best vacation experience or destination?	Paris, just before Covid hit. Part of my wife's 60 th birthday extravaganza. Great weather, wonderful sites, rekindled our marriage.	Helicopter touring remotest beaches on Great Barrier Reef for unique beauty and science while on a landmark anniversary with my wife.	2 weeks in Scotland and England this fall. Saw history and current events--the Queen died and we went to Buckingham Palace with the masses to pay respect.	Desolation Sound, Coastal British Columbia. Incredible but accessible intersection of Mountains and Sea, fresh water and salt water; great forests teeming with natural life. Humbling - puts us in our rightful little place.
What Dartmouth class has had the greatest impact on your life?	Can't remember the name of it, but Intro to Art History opened my eyes to so many beautiful things that I'd never realized were there.	Policy Studies by Dearn John Hennessey senior spring, which advanced problem solving skills with real cases while revealing how much more there was to learn.	Govy Politics of Implementation Seminar--how to get things done in the public sector with Prof. Smallwood. Career in public/nonprofit sector.	Cultural Anthropology with Michael Dorris. He opened up my mind and opened up the world.
What question would YOU ask of your classmates for this survey?	Who is the most interesting person you've ever met, and who would you like to meet (no time restriction)?	What have you done to pursue happiness?	What are you doing now?	What do you seek now, after 65 years, with more of your years behind you than ahead?

Sitting on the '79 Fence with Katy VanDusen & Cynthia Berger

By Ben Riley, Class Historian

Thirty of our classmates enjoyed a wonderful Sitting on the '79 Fence session on January 11, 2023, with Katy VanDusen, moderated by Cynthia Berger! Katy discussed her life and experience in Costa Rica as a grassroots climate activist, helping to develop innovative strategies for reducing carbon emissions—while preparing for the changes that a warming climate could bring.

Cynthia Berger, an award-winning science writer whose work focuses on ecology and conservation issues, expertly explored these issues with Katy, culminating in three tips:

- Know where your carbon footprint comes from and try to reduce it in half. Focus on fossil fuel emissions, rotting organic matter and refrigerants.
- Work in your community on climate-friendly projects and systemic changes
- Pay attention to how your money is invested. Does it foment climate issues or support environmental protection? Give to climate projects. Katy lauded Dartmouth for committing to divest from fossil fuel investments.

Fortunately, we have a recording of this dynamic and important session for you on YouTube at: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ud9rksWBWms>, also linked on the Class Website and Facebook page. Please take the time to watch it, you'll be glad you did!

Stay tuned for information on our next Sitting on the '79 Fence session, with two more fascinating classmates, this Spring! ♦

Sept. 2022 Zoom Reunion of the 1977 Spring LSA Program in Blois, France

By Burr Gray

Thanks to some prodding on the part of Pat Pannell, Classmate Outreach Coordinator, Carol Neitz Mondschein and I organized a Zoom reunion/get-together of members of the 1977 Spring LSA Blois program for the first time since graduation. For an hour and a half, classmates, some of whom had not seen each other since graduation, regaled one another with shared memories from 45 years ago of weekend Eurail Pass train rides, fine and not-so-fine dining, French families and bathing limitations, etc. At the same time we talked a little, given the time limitations, about our lives in the 45 years since we all hung out in France. There really wasn't enough time. Perhaps there never is for this sort of thing. Pat had created a wonderful short video from photos that we all sent in, which was shown at the start and the finish of the call. Perfect bookends of nostalgia. :-)

Checking in for the Zoom Reunion from around the girdled earth, as per the screen grab (right), were (from viewer's left to right, top to bottom): Burr Gray (MD), Mark Mills (OH), Carol Nietz Mondschein (SC), Carol Gieg (CA); ♦ Bennet Kashdan (RI), Felix Lanier (Chicago), Tim Prager (London), Ric Racic (Ontario) ♦ Lizanne Galbreath Megrue (France), Jeff Karan (San Fran Bay area), George Paul (Phoenix), Cherie Holmes (NH) ♦ Jayne Seymour Yarian (Togo, West Africa), Margi Hall Pence (Kansas City), Tony Anderson (MD), and Dick Smith (NYC)

Missing from our call were Joey Tomlak (in Japan); Clay Tillack (travelling), Sharon Smith (travelling), Fawn Wilderson, Larry Ryan, Lee Jones, Mark Caulkins, Mark Culhane, Rick Magnuson, and Russ Campion.

More of the stories and news from the Zoom Reunion will appear in the Dartmouth Alumni Magazine or in future class newsletters, but for now, we'll leave you with a sample. Tim Prager Update - joined the call at 1:00 am from the UK; first family in Blois lived in a spooky house outside Blois, so he moved to another family. Russ Campion visited occasionally, partly because he liked one of the family daughters. Tim has been working in TV and film for his career, writing for the BBC, living in London. Tim and his son went to Westminster for the Queen's funeral ceremony, in part to feel the sense of national unity and history. Tim told a story of traveling with Mark Culhane and Joey Tomlak one time back in 1977, having trouble finding a hotel room in Paris for a reasonable rate, and ending up renting a room in the notorious Le Pigalle neighborhood in Paris. Tim said that the mirror on the ceiling kind of gave away the room's true purpose.

So, if Pat Pannell knocks on your door about organizing a Zoom Reunion, while the project will take a bit of effort, the result will be a wonderful sentimental journey. Unless, of course, you hated the classmates on your program. :-)

Dartmouth '79 Partners in Community Service (DPCS)

Classmates supporting undergraduate nonprofit internships

By Stanley Weil, Dartmouth Partners in Community Service Liaison

The Class of 1979 continues to be recognized as the standard-bearer for Dartmouth Partners in Community Service (DPCS), the largest alumni partner at the College's Center for Social Impact. Together with the Center, DPCS has supported more than 800 service-minded undergraduates in alumni-mentored nonprofit internships across the United States. Since adopting DPCS as our class project in 2001, 77 unique classmates have mentored 112 student-interns. During FY 2021-22, six '79s served as mentors, three of our class officers sat on the DPCS Advisory Board, two served as officers on the DPCS Executive Committee, and we reaffirmed our financial leadership among sponsoring classes thanks to the generosity of 346 classmates whose contributions over and above Class Dues raised $16,431. Round of snaps to all you good people!

The Center needs our leadership now more than ever to help update and grow its dated "Friends of DPCS" database, a repository of alums who have expressed an interest in mentoring student-interns but are under no obligation to serve should they be contacted about a pairing opportunity. In other words, there is no downside for past mentors and potential first-timers to stand up and be counted by either filling out the Center's brief Mentor Intake Form (accessible via the link on the electronic version of this newsletter as well as the DPCS landing page on our class website), or by

I felt Denise's desire to help others during our brief introductory call, and it resonated deeply with me given my passion to preserve and build affordable homes for our brothers and sisters. Denise told me she supported local housing efforts while in high school and is involved with the Dartmouth Center for Social Impact. It seems a meal from me, we really hit it off by phone and on Face-Time. I loved learning about Jonathan's undergraduate experience during COVID, which came during his freshman spring and precipitated disruptive changes to all aspects of campus life. Jonathan participated in a clean needle distribution program for addicts. His main take-away from the program was that addiction crosses socioeconomic and ethnic boundaries and each addict is deserving of care. Jonathan's outreach to the homeless and those living in crack houses inspired me to participate in a service project in a poor neighborhood near my home, an experience he was kind enough to care about and discuss. We have begun a relationship that will continue well beyond Dartmouth and hope to get together in person for that meal that my mentee so richly deserves."

Only 33 classmates currently populate the new "Friends of DPCS" database; let's get to 79 by the Center's April 30 deadline for identifying summer term mentors, the DPCS season of greatest need! ♦

An Exploration of Blackness in Boston Through History

On the weekend of May 6-7, please join your classmates as we explore the richness of Black Boston.

Saturday afternoon 1-5pm two award-winning authors, historians, and Tufts professors (with deep Dartmouth family connections), Dr. Kerri Greenidge and Dr. Kendra Field, co-creators of the African American Trail Project, will expand and challenge our understanding of African American history and race, power, place and politics in New England and the United States.

Guided by them, our learning will touch on the many dimensions of Blackness—ranging from a too often invisible story of traumas, tragedy, injustice, violent subjugation, and exclusion to leadership, scholarship, empowered action, community, joy, and more.

The local historical context will ground our discussions of race, equality, and social justice in a mobile classroom/bus and as we visit:

- Dudley Square \(now called Nubian Square\), longtime hub of the Black community in Boston ←

- The Royall House and Slave Quarters, the oldest and only remaining slave quarters in the Northern US. ↘

- The African Meeting House, the oldest standing Black church in the United States and the site of Boston's African American Museum.

- The Tremont Theater, site of protests against the screening of D.W. Griffith's "Birth of a Nation" led by William Monroe Trotter in 1915 ↘

After the program, we will kick back for dinner at Darryl's to celebrate and enjoy the culture, food, and music of Black Boston.

Sunday, May 7 at 11am, we will meet at Boston's Museum of Fine Arts for brunch and for viewing... ↘

Touching Roots: Black Ancestral Legacies in the Americas.

Dr. Kerri Greenidge →

Black Radical, The Life and Times of Monroe Trotter \(2019\)

The Grimke's, The Legacy of Slavery in an American Family \(2022\)

Dr. Kendra Field →

Since space is limited, please respond to Eleanor Shannon (e.shannon@icloud.com) to be added to a mailing list for more details on the weekend events (home base hotel, etc.) or write her or any member of the committee if you have questions. There will be a modest cost for participating. ◆

2022 Classmate Obituaries - In Memory

Ben Riley, our class historian, writes obituaries of our classmates for our class website, for the Dartmouth Alumni Magazine website, and for this newsletter. From the fall of 1975 through to the end of 2021, our class had lost fifty-eight classmates. Unfortunately, in 2022 we lost four more. Here, in print, are the obituaries of the four classmates who have left us last year. They will be missed.

Elbert A. Gates (1/8/22)
Douglas A. Canning (5/30/22)
Karen Brownsberger Gordon (6/29/22)
Dale "Penny" Breed (7/7/22)

Dale Pennell "Penny" Breed '79

Dale Pennell "Penny" Breed '79 died on July 7, 2022 from early-onset Alzheimer's. Penny was born on March 4, 1957, and graduated from Hanover High School in 1975. At Dartmouth Penny played field hockey and was a member of the women's alpine ski team that captured the NCAA title in 1978. She majored in English and history and was the first '79 named a Wearer of the Green. Penny graduated from Georgetown Law (1983) and began a successful career in private practice, specializing in alternative energy project finance. Returning to the Upper Valley in 1985, Penny and her husband, Dan Freihofer '80, raised three children and renovated a 1790 farmhouse in Lyme, New Hampshire. Once her children reached school age, she assumed an active role in the family energy business, Johnson & Dix Fuel Corp., eventually becoming president and CEO. Penny was a dedicated community volunteer, active gardener and chef (she knew every recipe from the Moosewood Cookbook), personal computing specialist, and a queen of knitting and crafting.

She regularly pulled all-nighters to assemble Halloween costumes or giant Lego kits to delight her children. Classmates remember Penny as quick-witted and savvy, a wonderful mother and thoughtful CEO, a guiding light at Dartmouth, and a dear friend with gracious style and a beautiful smile. Penny is survived by children Will, Sarah, and Sam; grandchildren Walter and Jack; and other family members. In 2017 daughter Sarah married Rob Henley, son of Joe and Kim Donovan Henley '79.

Douglas Arthur Canning '79

Douglas Arthur Canning '79 died on May 30, 2022 after suffering severe injuries from a bicycle accident. Doug was born on April 27, 1957, and attended Robert Fitch High School in Groton, Connecticut. At Dartmouth Doug joined Kappa Sigma, majored in chemistry, and was on the ski and sailing teams. Doug obtained his M.D. from Dartmouth Medical School in 1982 and completed a residency and fellowship in urology. He served four years in the U.S. Navy in San Diego and then worked for 30 years as a pediatric urologist at Children's Hospital in Philadelphia, becoming department chief. Doug was a world-renowned expert in rare urological conditions and was lauded by the Wall Street Journal: "Doug Canning made life better for thousands in ways that go unsung in the broader culture but are miraculous for those who have benefitted." Doug was married to Annabelle Brainerd Canning '81—a "43-year tremendous romance"—who survives him with twin daughters Caroline and Anne and son John and his wife, Alexia. Classmates wrote that Doug was beloved for "his enthusiasm for life, engaging personality, and huge grin" and "shattered the axiom that the 'nicest guy' never reaches the pinnacle of his profession." Another added, "Doug's accomplishments coupled with his modesty are the hallmarks of the truly great: They always make you feel like a million bucks. Doug was universally loved across every facet of his life."

For the full obituary on Doug, please see our Class "In Memory" page at: 1979.dartmouth.org/inmemory

Elbert Armistead Gates '79

Elbert Armistead Gates '79 died on January 8, 2022 in Greenwich, Connecticut, from a fall and cardiac arrest. He was 64. Born in Evanston, Illinois, on March 25, 1957, "Bert" lived most of his life in Greenwich, graduating from Greenwich High School in 1975. He loved playing the piano and chess and was on the Greenwich soccer and ski teams. At Dartmouth Bert joined Bones Gate, but then experienced the onset of mental illness. He left the College in the spring of 1976. For more than three decades the Pathways organization based in Greenwich provided a home environment for Bert and an outlet for activities through its fellowship club. Bert was also a devoted member of the Jehovah's Witnesses. He is survived by his mother, siblings, and extended family. Steve Franklin '79, his freshman-year roommate, writes: "Bert had an engaging smile and low-key demeanor that facilitated his many personal connections, but it was his thoughtfulness and caring that most attracted me to him.

His departure from Hanover was a great loss." High school classmate Grace McGorrian '79 adds: "'Eggie' was a very talented man who operated within a kind masculinity and a gentle tolerance of others. His illness apparently took from him the opportunities to have a spouse, partner, or children. It could not rob him, however, of his success living as a supported but independent adult in his hometown, appreciating sports, and plying his grin to his family. He is missed."

For the full obituary on Elbert, please see our Class "In Memory" page at: 1979.dartmouth.org/inmemory

Karen Brownsberger Gordon '79

Karen Brownsberger Gordon '79 died on June 29, 2022 after two years with cancer. Karen was born on August 4, 1957, in San Francisco, and moved to Anchorage, Alaska, in 1965. She graduated from East High School in Anchorage in 1975. During her Dartmouth freshman year Karen lived in Middle Fayerweather with Marina Finch. Throughout college she was a devoted volunteer at Mary Hitchcock, providing play therapy for kids while also meeting her future husband, Steve Gordon '79. Karen served on the '79 council, sang in the Glee Club, and was a member of Fire & Skoal. Karen graduated with highest distinction in psychology, also obtaining her elementary education certification. Karen and Steve married right before graduation in June 1975 and moved to Iowa to pursue graduate work. Karen obtained a master's, then began teaching first grade. After five years they moved to Anchorage, where Karen taught kindergarten and later she and Steve adopted Ben, Amy, Peter, and Laura.

Karen next became a full-time volunteer for her kids, her church, and the community. When the kids were older, Karen returned to her beloved kindergarten teaching, winning the BP Teacher of Excellence in 2019. Classmates remember "Karen was completely without artifice and gently and completely honest. Her enthusiasm, empathy, and nurturing spirit made those around her feel supported and loved. She was an enduring force in the lives of her grade school students and the adults whom she led in faithful fellowship."

'79 Service and Fellowship: Build A Home with Dave Stone!

By Dave Stone

Consider joining some of your fellow 79s for a four-day service trip to Rosarito, Mexico in August 2023! Ben Riley and I will be hosting a weekend to build a Home of Hope for a family that does not have adequate shelter. We need 20 people to construct a three-room home in two days! The host charity, Homes of Hope ("HOH"), takes care of everything and underwrites the cost of the home and materials.

My wife and I have made this trip about 80 times since 1997, and it always touches our lives and our hearts. Although this is not an "official" class event and no class money will be contributed, this trip provides an opportunity for you, your spouse and D'79 classmates to grow together in service.

The group will fly into San Diego on Thursday, August 10, 2023. HOH meets us at the airport and transports us to their Base in Rosarito, 40 minutes south.

After an orientation that evening, we will build the home on Friday and Saturday, aided by staff and the family that will live there. Tools and materials are all provided. We will stay at the beautiful HOH Base and have meals together. See <https://www.ywam-> sandiegobaja.org/ourlocations#sadm. By Saturday afternoon the house will be completed, and we fly home Sunday morning.

The cost is your airfare to/from San Diego and $950 for three nights at the HOH Base, including meals.

We'd love you (and family) to join us, but space is limited to 20. However, if a group of 40 signs up, we likely can build a second house at the same time!

To sign up or for more information, please email Dave at dstone@FirstRate.com and/or Ben at briley@bzbm.com. Go 1979! ♦

Please give to the Dartmouth College Fund (DCF).

Your gift—any size—goes 100% to financial aid.

Also, please pay your class dues.
